

Brenda E. Ringwald '67

Exceptional Service

Brenda Ringwald has been a "Super-Volunteer" for Carleton since graduating with a government major in 1967. She served on the Alumni Board from 1986-1991 and is a co-chair of her 25th Reunion Committee. As an Alumni Admissions Representative and AAR Regional Coordinator, she has represented Carleton to prospective students and assisted other AARs for the last 15 years. She also returned to Carleton to speak at "Beyond Carleton" in 1990, and has been a Phonathon caller for the Alumni Annual Fund.

A certified paralegal, Ringwald currently works for a strategic planning firm called Leadership 2000, where, she says, there is not really an accurate job title for everything she does. She also chairs the Education and Community Service Committee of the Scottsdale Visioning Project, a city planning endeavor, and is a member of the Arizona Outdoor Travel Club.

Ringwald writes a column for Progress, a local newspaper in Scottsdale, AZ, where she now lives. She has one daughter, Kristin Lelewer.
